

Another Jamison Success Story

Baldor Specialty Foods
Hunts Point, NY

Expansion Project with Girandola & Shutkind Construction Corporation

Project Overview

Baldor Specialty Foods is one of the largest importers and distributors of fresh produce and specialty foods in the Northeast and Mid-Atlantic regions. To better meet the demands of the New York area and to increase product lines, Baldor expanded their operations. In addition to design and architectural work performed by Cybul Cybul Wilhelm Architects and engineering and construction by Dresdner Robin, Girandola & Shutkind Construction Corporation was chosen as the cold storage contractor. They decided to use Jamison Door Company products for their role in the expansion of Baldor Specialty Foods. "This expansion solidifies our Bronx location as the headquarters of Baldor Specialty Foods," said TJ Murphy, owner and CEO of Baldor, in a press release. "We are proud to make this investment in the Bronx, to strengthen our commitment to Hunts Point, and to continue to be a strong supporter of the area's overall economic development."

The expansion mostly included new temperature zones for produce, as well as new loading docks, to help Baldor increase its product lines with new fruits and produce to serve the area's top restaurants and grocery stores. The 110,000-square-foot expansion of the Baldor Specialty Foods headquarters in Hunts Point, NY increased floor space to 270,000 square feet.

Top 5 Favorite Project Features

1. All product lines are top quality.
2. The fiberglass Jamocor doors are first class construction, low maintenance, and the perfect door for a food storage facility.
3. HCR Doors are revolutionary in the fact they provide an effective temperature barrier with very few moving parts to break.
4. HCR Doors provide a full, unobstructed vision between rooms allowing for a safer work environment.
5. HCR Doors are relatively easy to install.
